The Educational Infrastructure in El Paso and Selected Other Metropolitan Areas: A Description of the Cities' Available Education Options and the Relationships to Economic Success

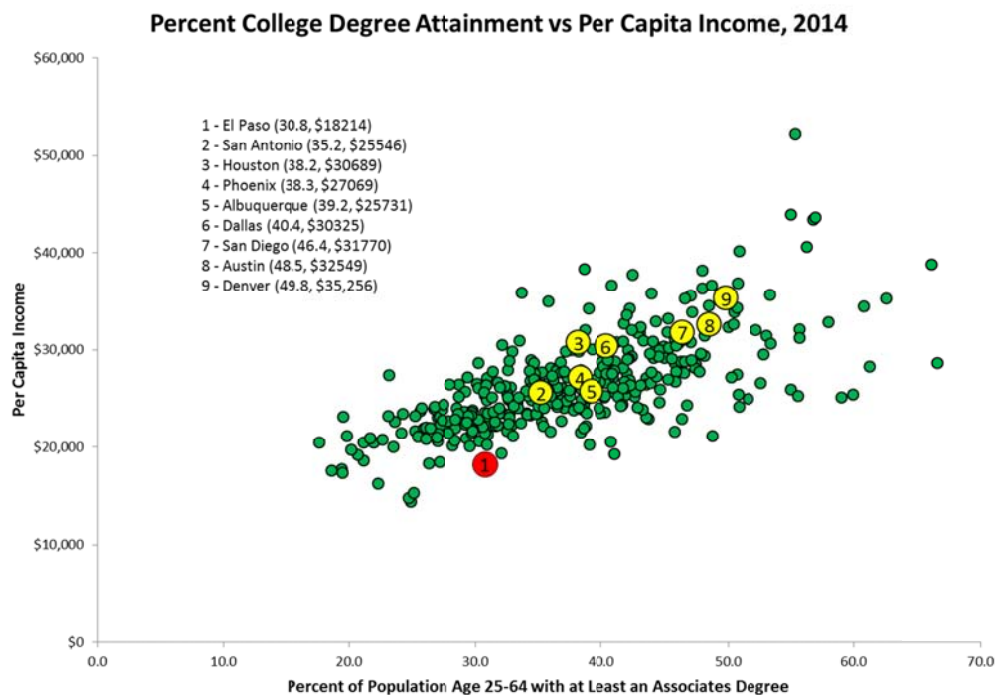

In response to a request from CREEED, NCHEMS has compiled information about the educational infrastructure in El Paso and eight other specifically identified metropolitan areas. The results of that compilation are presented in this appendix. A limited amount of contextual information about each of the areas is also presented. The eight metropolitan areas specified by CREEED are:

- San Antonio, Texas
- Austin, Texas
- Dallas, Texas
- Houston, Texas
- Denver, Colorado
- Albuquerque, New Mexico
- Phoenix, Arizona
- San Diego, California

In each case, information was compiled for the metropolitan areas for which the cities listed were the core entities.

Data about the percentage of high school graduates who meet postsecondary readiness standards, by district, are presented in an appendix.

1. Educational Attainment and Income

Source: U.S. Census Bureau, 2014 American Community Survey.

Figure A1 plots per capita income against the educational attainment levels of the working age populations in all Metropolitan Statistical Areas (MSAs) in the US. El Paso and the eight selected cities are individually identified. This chart shows that:

- There is a high correlation between per capita income and educational attainment levels of the population – the higher the education levels the higher the per capita income in the area.
- El Paso is the least affluent and has the least well-educated population of all the comparison cities.
- There are numerous cities that have equivalent levels of education attainment and substantially higher levels of per capita income. El Paso not only has relatively little education capital, but it has not created an economy that takes full advantage of the capital it does have.

2. The Economy and Employment Opportunities

Figures A2 and A3, respectively, describe the industry mix in the various cities and the relative levels of employment in various occupations. These figures reveal that:

- Employment shares in retail trade, transportation and warehousing, and public administration are higher in El Paso than most of the comparison cities and lower in construction, finance, professional, and scientific and Management, and services other than public administration. This means that El Paso has more jobs concentrated in traditionally low-wage industries and relatively fewer jobs in traditionally high-wage industries.

- El Paso has a higher proportion of jobs in the generally less well-paid (blue collar) occupations – services, sales and office, maintenance and repair, and transportation – and fewer in the more highly paid professional occupations such as management, computing, engineering and science, and the health professions.
- The very large differences between El Paso and the comparison cities in the areas of management, computers, engineering and science are particularly noteworthy.

3. Elementary & Secondary Education Infrastructure

The following pages describe the variety of secondary schools in El Paso and each of the comparison cities. El Paso is distinctive for its lack of options for students attending high school.

El Paso County

- El Paso County has 254 public schools enrolling 179,600 students.
- Fifty-six (56) schools at the high school level enroll 54,311 students.
- Nine (9) ISDs have 48 schools at the high school level enrolling 51,145 students.
  - Only one school is identified as a charter school: Northwest Early College Academy in Canutillo ISD enrolling 253 students.
  - No schools are identified as magnet schools.

- Eight (8) schools are independent charter schools enrolling 3,166 students (6% of students at the high school level).
- Private schools enroll 1,819 in grades 9 through 12. Six (6) schools have enrollments over greater than 100 and enroll 1,681 students.

San Antonio

- San Antonio/Bexar County has 465 schools enrolling 166,698 students. The schools are in 13 ISD's the largest of which are Northeast (68,205), Northside (58,668), and San Antonio (23,073) and in 54 independently governed charter schools enrolling 15,765 students.
- There are 97 high school level schools enrolling 89,832 students
- Twenty-six (26) high school level charter schools enroll 8,936 students (10% of high school level students)
  - 2 charter schools are within San Antonio ISD enrolling 789 students
  - 24 charter schools are independently governed and enroll 8,147 students
- Sixteen (16) high schools are magnet schools enrolling 29,804 students (33.2% of high school level students): 5 schools in Northeast ISD, 3 schools in Northside ISD, and 8 schools in San Antonio ISD.
- Private schools in San Antonio/Bexar County enroll 4574 students in grades 9 through 12. Fifteen (15) schools enroll the majority of the students (4,185).

Austin

- Austin/Travis County has 211 schools enrolling 139,000 students
- At the high school level there are 39 schools enrolling 35,482 students. These students are in eight (8) ISD (Austin, De Valle, Eanes, Lake Travis, Leanders, Manor, Pflugenville, and Round Lake), the largest of which is Austin and in 34 independently governed charter schools.
- High school level enrollment (schools with grade 12 as the highest grade in 39 schools is 35,482.
- There are nine (9) charter schools in Austin/Travel County at the high school level enrolling 2,614 students (7.3% of the high school level enrollment).
  - 2 charter schools are in Austin ISD with an enrollment of 307
  - 7 charter schools are independently governed with an enrollment of 2,317
- Total private school enrollment in Austin/Travis County is 2,698
  - 16 schools have enrollment at the grade 9 to 12 level greater than 10
  - 9 schools with more than 100 students enroll a total of 2,426 students; the two largest schools enroll a total of 897 students

Dallas

- Dallas/Dallas County has 336 schools with a total of 211,250 students. Sixty-nine (69) schools enroll students at the high school level with an enrollment of 52,583 students
- Dallas ISD is the largest district with 228 schools and an enrollment of 155,031 students.
  - 40 schools are at the high school level enrolling 37,974 students
  - None of the Dallas ISD schools are charter schools
  - One (1) high school is a magnet school with 4,664 students
- The other ISDs, including the largest ISD (Richardson) do not have charter or magnet schools. Richardson ISD has one (1) magnet school but not at the high school level.
- Twenty-one (21) independently governed charter high school level charters enroll 10,429 students (20% of total high school-level enrollment)
- Private schools enroll 6,652 students in grades 9 to 12 in Dallas/Dallas County
  - 13 private schools with enrollments greater than 100 students in grades 9-12 enroll a total of 5,836 students at this level
  - 3 schools enroll 3,013 students or 45% of all private school students grades 9-12

Houston Independent School District

- Houston and Harris County has 702 schools with a total enrollment of 559,135 students. The schools are under the jurisdiction of 14 ISDs and one CISD and 100 independently governed charter schools. Houston Independent School District is the largest district with 287 schools and a total enrollment of 211,118 students (four schools did not report enrollment).
- The other ISDs enroll most of their students in regular schools. The only exceptions are:
  - Aldine ISD has 2 magnet schools at the high school level
  - Clear Creek ISD has one charter school at the high school level
  - Spring Branch ISD has one charter school at the high school level
- Most of the charter and magnet schools in ISDs are within the Houston ISD
- Fifty-two (52) Houston ISD schools are at the high school level (highest grade is grade 12). Most schools are 9-12 with the exception of several that are 6 to 12). These 52 schools enroll 50,045 students. Of the 52 high school level schools,
  - 12 are charter schools enrolling 4,139 students (8.3% of high school level students)
  - 27 are magnet schools enrolling 38,489 students (76.9% of high school level students)

- 160 charter schools in Houston/Harris County enroll 60,945 students at all levels or 10% of the total students.
  - Independently governed charter schools enroll 41,127 students.
  - At the high school level, 41 charter schools enroll 2,786 students or 15% of the 144,996 students at the high school level
  - 26 of the independently governed charter schools at the high school level enroll 12,402 students or 8.5% of the students in high-school level schools.
  - The remaining 15 high school-level charter schools are within ISDs, 12 of which are within Houston ISD.
- Forty-three (43) private schools in Houston/Harris County enroll students at the high school level (grades 9-12) for a total enrollment at those grade levels of 9,371. Twenty-one (21) of these schools with enrollments over 100 students enroll 90% of the students (8,428).

Denver Public Schools

- Denver Public Schools (DPS), the largest school district in Colorado, enrolls approximately 85,620 students in 189 schools (2013-14).
- DPS includes 46 high schools (mainly, but not entirely 9 through 12), enrolling 22,745 students.
- DPS has pursued a strategy of developing a wide diversity of schools—all within the governing structure of the school district. At the high school level, these include:
  - Charter schools: 11 schools (2 of which opened in 2014-15), enrolling 2,487 students (e.g., KIPP schools, Colorado High School Charter, Girls Athletic Leadership High School, STRIVE Prep, and Venture Prep)
  - Traditional public high schools (e.g., East and North), but with special schools within schools emphasizing accelerated pathways or unique themes.
  - Academies, public high schools each with a unique focus (e.g., Denver School of Science and Technology (DSSIT), Compassion Road Academy, Denver Montessori High School, Kunsmiller Creative Arts Academy, Noel Community Arts High School, and PREP Academy)
  - High Schools with a special emphasis such as innovative models or intensive pathways (e.g., Emily Griffith High School and several of the academies)
  - Magnet schools: there is just one magnet school, the Denver Center for International Studies-Montbello. This school operates as a public school within DPS with three campuses at the elementary, middle school, and high school level. The high school enrolls 774 students.
- Private high schools within Denver include 13 schools enrolling 1,958 students. Large schools affiliated with the Roman Catholic Church enroll 1,417 students or 72% of total private high school enrollment.

Albuquerque

- Albuquerque has 33 education agencies enrolling approximately 100,590 students PK through 12.
- The largest agency, Albuquerque Public Schools, has 163 schools enrolling approximately 93,202 students.
- Albuquerque Public Schools has 36 schools at the high school level (highest grade level at grade 12) enrolling 27,475 students.
  - 13 of the high school level schools are charter schools enrolling 3,633 (13% of high school level students)
  - No schools in Albuquerque School District are identified as magnet schools
- The remaining 32 education agencies in Albuquerque are charter schools enrolling 7,388 students.
  - These schools are organized separately from Albuquerque Public Schools.
  - 15 of the charter schools are at the high school level (highest grade level at grade 12). The schools enroll students are several different grade levels: 6-12, 7-12, and 9-12. The 15 high-school level charter schools enroll 4,039 students.
- High school level schools in Albuquerque, both Albuquerque Public Schools and charter schools, enroll approximately 31,514 students.
  - 7,672 (24%) of the high-school level students are enrolled in charter schools
    - 4,039 students are enrolled in 15 independent charter schools
    - 3633 students are enrolled in 13 charter schools within Albuquerque Public Schools
- Private schools in Albuquerque enroll approximately 3,315 students at the high school level (grades 9-12). Most of this enrollment is concentrated in a few schools: nine schools enroll 2,440 students and one school enrolls 650. The remaining students are enrolled in relatively small private schools, many with less than 50 students at the high school level.

Phoenix (Maricopa County)

Schools within the Phoenix area are governed by multiple school districts with overlapping jurisdictions depending on the level of school for which they are responsible. Some are elementary school districts that serve grades kindergarten through 8. The elementary school districts are paired with high school districts that serve grades 9 through 12. Small portions of Phoenix are served by unified school districts, which serve grades K through 12.

The Phoenix metropolitan area includes multiple cities and towns. Most of these are with Maricopa County. The following summary focuses on the schools within multiple districts located in Maricopa County.

- Maricopa County has approximately 1,172 schools enrolling approximately 636,000 students. Narrowing the focus only to the areas of the county classified as “City-Large,” the number of schools is 597 with approximately 350,000 students.

- Of the 597 schools, 175 are high schools, enrolling approximately 111,000 students.
- Of the 175 high schools, 120 are charter schools. Of these schools, 26 began operating in 2013/14 and did not report data to NCES. The remaining 94 charter schools enrolled 29,707 students (about 27% of the high-school level enrollment).
- Charter schools are not under the jurisdiction of public school governing boards. The charter schools are operated by independent entities such as national providers such as Career Success Schools or the region's public higher education institutions: Maricopa County Community College and Arizona State University.

San Diego

- The principal school district in San Diego is the San Diego Unified School District. Overall the district enrolls 129,776 students in 225 educational facilities (2 facilities did not report data in 2013-14)
- 52 schools are high school level schools (9-12) enrolling 42,370 students, including:
  - 23 traditional high schools enrolling 21, 847 students (51.6%)
  - 13 magnet schools enrolling 10,197 students (24.4%)
  - 16 charter schools enrolling 10,326 students (24.1%)
- All charter schools operate within the governing authority of the San Diego Unified School District
- There are 21 private schools at the high school level enrolling 4,344 students
  - 1 school enrolls more than 1,000 students
  - 2 schools enrollment from 500 to 999 students
  - 1 school enrolls 290 students
  - The remaining 14 schools have fewer than 100 students

4. Postsecondary Education Infrastructure

Figures A4 & A5 show the distribution of student enrollments across different types of institutions, separately for undergraduate and graduate enrollments. These data show that El Paso is different from the other cities in that it:

- Has no private four-year college or university
- Has a disproportionately high dependence on private 2-year institutions.

Figure A6 provides an overview of the number of institutions, by type of institution, in each city, while a comprehensive list of all institutions in each of the metropolitan areas follows this summary.
